Book(s) on Reserve:

Arlon Tussing & Bob Tipee (eds.) The Natural Gas Industry: Evolution, Structure, Economics, Pennwell Books, 1995, 2nd edition.

Arthur DeVany and W. David Walls, The Emerging New Order on Natural Gas: Markets versus Regulation, Quorum Books, 1995.

Canadian Energy Research Institute (CERI) – Natural Gas in Canada and the United States from Wellhead to Burner Tip, January 2004.

Mansell, R. and J. Church, Traditional and Incentive Regulations: Applications to Natural Gas Pipelines in Canada, Van Horne Institute – 1995.

Course Objective:

The main objective of this course is to provide the student with an understanding of the economics of natural gas markets. The course will cover the chain of activities that bring natural gas from an undiscovered resource to a commodity available for sale, providing both historical context and economic analysis of each activity. The incentives and economic decisions behind gas finding and production, pipeline transportation and storage, and distribution and consumption will be explored. Students will also gain an understanding of regulations that have influenced the development of the natural gas market.

Grade Determination and Final Examination Details:

Assignment	10% - Due date: April 3
Midterm Examination	40% - March 4
Final Examination	50% - April 17-29

Tests and final exams are marked on a numerical (percentage) basis. The numerical grade in the course is then calculated using the weights indicated above. As a guide to determining standing, these letter grade equivalences will apply:

A+	98 - 100	B	75 - 79	C-	60 - 62
A	90 - 97	B-	70 - 74	D+	55 - 59
A-	85 - 89	C+	67 - 69	D	50 - 54
B+	80 - 84	C	63 - 66	F	0 - 49

A non-programmable, non-graphing, non-alphanumeric calculator may be allowed during the writing of tests or final examinations. The use of graphing calculators, cell phones, and computers is not permitted.

There will be a Registrar scheduled final examination, lasting 2 hours and held in a classroom.

Exams may contain multiple choice questions.

Notes:

- Students seeking reappraisal of a piece of graded term work (term paper, essay, etc.) should discuss their work with the Instructor within fifteen days of the work being returned to the class.
- Late assignments will not be accepted under any circumstances.
- Make-up midterm examinations will not be given under any circumstances. With appropriate documentation, the weight of the midterm will be moved to the final exam. Deferred examinations will not be given except in cases of extreme personal emergencies. Also, examinations will not be given before the indicated dates.
- Students' exams and assignments will be returned during regular class time.
- The use of cell phones for any purpose in class is prohibited. Computers may be used for note-taking purposes only.
- Please note that the following types of emails will receive no response: emails not addressed to anyone in particular; emails where the recipient's name is not spelled correctly; anonymous emails; emails in which the sender has not identified which course and section he/she is taking; and, emails involving questions that are specifically addressed on the course outline.

- It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at 220-8237. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of this course.
