Course Description:

Introduction to the use of statistical principles in economics. Topics include gathering economic data, basic data manipulation, hypothesis testing, and statistical estimation of economic relationships. The core of this course is based on the principles from random variables, expectation theory, and probability theory. The two-variable and multivariate linear regression models are introduced, developed and evaluated.

Laboratory:

Quantitative analysis using standard statistical software; Stata and Excel.

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes:

Building on the fundamental mechanics of statistics and probability as presented in Stats 205, 211 or 213, Econ 395 students will become familiar with the empirical application of statistical principles to problems of measurement in economics. The course focuses on the intuition and application of statistical reasoning, the gathering and manipulation of economic data, and the use of standard econometric software. Students completing this course successfully will have a fundamental working knowledge of statistics and econometrics as applied to current economic problems.

Course Outline:

Introduction to Econometrics (Chapter 1)

Why study econometrics and why it is useful for understanding economic problems and issues of measurement (1 hr)

Review of basic probability and statistics (Appendices A, B, C)

Opportunity to review important elements in Statistics useful for econometrics (4hrs)

Simple Regression model (Chapter 2)

Fundamental characteristics and mechanics of regression analysis, the importance of the residual error term (4 hrs)

Multi-regression models (Chapter 3)

A detailed understanding of why and what restrictions are required for a regression equation to generate empirically accurate information on the relationships among economic variables (6 hrs)

Multi-regression inference (Chapter 4)

Testing the statistical accuracy of the model and parameter estimates (5 hrs)

Multi-regression further issues (Chapter 6)

Issues of functional form for specifying the regression model, selection of regressors, and using the estimated regression model for prediction (3hrs)

Qualitative information (Chapter 7)

The importance and use of binary (dummy) variables as regressors and choice variables. The linear probability model in economics is introduced (4 hrs)

Heteroskedasticity (Chapter 8)

The variance of the regression equation and the importance of constant variance (homoscedasticity) in economic inference and model valuation, tests and corrections (3 hrs)

Model Specification (Chapter 9)

Issues arising in empirical application of regression models, testing functional specification, proxy variables and measurement error (3 hrs)

Course Review and final examination preparation (2 hrs)

A passing grade on any particular component of the course is not required for a student to pass the course as a whole.

As per the Writing Across the Curriculum Statement in the Calendar, writing and grading thereof will be a factor in the evaluation of student work.

Any student work which remains undistributed after the last day of classes will be available to students through the instructor's office during his office hours.

The final examination will be comprehensive, scheduled by the Registrar, held in a classroom, and last 2 hours. If a student cannot write their final exam on the date assigned by the Registrar's Office, they need to apply for a deferred exam www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred_final. Under no circumstance will this be accommodated by the Department.

Tests and exams will not involve multiple choice questions. Non-programmable calculators WILL NOT be allowed during the writing of tests or final examinations.

The exact date for the in-class midterm will be announced at least one week in advance.

THERE WILL BE NO MAKEUP OR DEFERRED QUIZZES/TESTS/EXAMS under any circumstances, nor may the quizzes/tests/exams be written early. Students unable to write the quizzes/tests/exams because of documented illness, family emergency, religious observance, or university-sanctioned event will have the weight shifted to the final examination; otherwise a grade of zero will be assigned.

Reappraisal of Grades and Intellectual Honesty:

For reappraisal of graded term work, see Calendar I.2

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/i-2.html>

For reappraisal of final grade, see Calendar I.3

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/i-3.html>

Statement of Intellectual Dishonesty, see Calendar K.4

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-4.html>

A student who feels that a piece of graded term work (e.g., term paper, essay, test) has been unfairly graded, may have the work re-graded as follows. The student shall discuss the work with the instructor within 15 days of being notified about the mark or of the item's return to the class; no reappraisal of term work is permitted after the 15 days. If not satisfied, the student shall immediately take the matter to the Head of the department offering the course, who will arrange for a reassessment of the work within the next 15 days. The reappraisal of term work may cause the grade to be raised, lowered, or to remain the same. If the student is not satisfied with the decision and wishes to appeal, the student shall address a letter of appeal to the Dean of the faculty offering the course within 15 days of the unfavourable decision. In the letter, the student must clearly and fully state the decision being appealed, the grounds for appeal, and the remedies being sought, along with any special circumstances that warrant an appeal of the reappraisal. The student should include as much written documentation as possible.

Plagiarism and Other Academic Misconduct

Intellectual honesty is the cornerstone of the development and acquisition of knowledge and requires that the contribution of others be acknowledged. Consequently, plagiarism or cheating on any assignment is regarded as an extremely serious academic offense. Plagiarism involves submitting or presenting work in a course as if it were the student's own work done expressly for that particular course when, in fact, it is not. Students should examine sections of the University Calendar that present a Statement of Intellectual Honesty and definitions and penalties associated with Plagiarism/Cheating/Other Academic Misconduct.

Plagiarism and Other Academic Misconduct, see Calendar K.5
