Course Outline:

The purpose of this course is to introduce the student to labour economics and how individuals make choices in terms of employment, salary, leisure and retirement. Labour economics can be roughly divided into two major areas: the determination of wages and the supply of labour. Economics 431 primarily looks at the supply of labour whereas Economics 433 investigates the determination of wages.

In this course, we consider the factors that influence a person's employment decision(s) in terms of hours worked, education, leisure, division of family responsibilities, migration, immigration and retirement. We will also explore Canada's immigration policy and its impact on unemployment - together with the government's new policy on temporary foreign workers. We will also explore the determinants of unemployment and whether a government policy to reduce unemployment will cause adverse inflationary pressures. At each stage, the economic theory will be related to current policy issues and other observations made by labour economists.

Chapters Covered

1.	The Economic Approach to the Supply of Labour	Chapter 1
2.	Some Useful Concepts: Definitions and Time Value of Money.	Chapter 2

10.	Unemployment Policy	Chapter 20

(Note: all information in the chapters above will be supplemented by my lecture notes and other readings)

Grade Determination and Final Examination Details:

2 homework assignments (10% each)	20%
Midterm Examination (Monday October 20, 2014)	20%
Final Examination (set by the Registrar's Office)	30%
Group Term Paper (5% for a bibliography, 20% for the paper and 5% for participation)	30%

Assignments:

1. Due dates for the two (2) graded assignments will be announced throughout the term. I usually hand out the assignment two weeks before the assignment is due. Group participation is encouraged but you must hand in your own work. (In your own hand writing)

Term Paper (30% of final mark)

One of the main objectives of this course is to help improve your writing and research skills. The term paper will be a collaborative effort, which will consist of 2 people working on a paper and will be due the last week of lectures. I will hand out a list of relevant topics in the first month of lectures.

The term paper will be graded in 3 parts. The first part will be worth 5 percent and will be a bibliography exercise that will include a list of academic articles that are relevant to the topic you have chosen. This bibliography exercise will be due around the second week of October.

The paper will be worth 20% of your final mark and an additional 5% will be based on group participation. I will hand out a group evaluation form to each member and you will grade each group member on their contribution to the paper. Any “free riders” will receive a zero on this participation mark.

Examinations:

1. Examinations will consist of problem solving questions.
2. The midterm examination will be held during the lecture time. The exam must be completed during the specified time. Extra time will not be given for any reason.
3. The final examination will last for two hours and will be scheduled by the Registrar. The exam must be completed during the specified time. Extra time will not be given for any reason.
4. The use of a calculator is permitted during the midterm test and the final examination. The use of tablets, computers, cell phones, blackberry’s and other electronic devices (unless approved by your instructor) is not permitted.

Assignments, tests and final exams are marked on a numerical (percentage) basis. The marks are then added using the weights indicated above and converted into letter grades. As a guide to determining standing, these letter grade equivalences will apply:

A+	97 – 100	B	75 - 79	C-	60 - 64
A	90 – 96	B-	71 - 74	D+	55 - 59
A-	85 – 89	C+	68 - 70	D	50 – 54
B+	80 - 84	C	65 - 67	F	0 – 49

Notes:

1. Students should be aware that no "make-up" midterms will be given. Any student who finds it necessary to miss the midterm must notify the instructor in advance and produce a valid medical certificate (or other required documentation) in order to have the weighting adjusted. This adjustment will result in the final exam counting for 50% of the final grade. Late assignments will be deducted 20% for each business day that the assignment is late.
2. Examinations will not be given prior to the scheduled date.
3. Students should be aware of the academic regulations outlined in The University of Calgary Calendar.
4. Students seeking reappraisal of a piece of graded term work should discuss their work with the instructor within fifteen days of work being returned to class. However, the earliest that grades will be discussed will be two days after the return of an assignment or examination.
5. Students will be responsible for all material listed on the course outline, regardless of whether or not the material has been covered in class, unless the instructor notifies the class that the material will not be covered.
6. Please note that the following types of emails will receive no response: emails not addressed to anyone in particular; emails where the recipient's name is not spelled correctly; anonymous emails; emails which do not specify the course and section in which you are registered; and, emails involving questions that are specifically addressed on the course outline.
7. I check my emails twice per day, once in the morning and once in the afternoon. (Excluding weekends) Since I teach hundreds of students, please send me an email only if it is absolutely necessary and/or in the case of an emergency.
8. It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at 220-8237. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of this course.
9. The use of lap-top computers, notepads, iPads, and electronic tablets are permitted as long as the student uses these devices for note-taking only. Sending emails and/or surfing the internet during lectures is strictly prohibited. The use of cell phones for any purposes in class is not allowed.

10. Plagiarism and Cheating: Students shall not submit words, ideas, images or data of another person as their own in any academic writing, essay, thesis, research, project or assignment in a course or program of study. Formula sheets and/or formulae written on (in) a textbook and/or computer (calculator) case is not allowed. Plagiarism and cheating are serious academic offences and will be dealt with severely.
