Books on Reserve:

A list of specific topics and required readings, including a list of Books on Reserve, will be provided in the first week of lectures.

Desire2Learn:

This course will make use of the Desire2Learn (D2L) platform. Students who are registered in the course can log on at <http://d2l.ucalgary.ca> or through their student centre. Please note that D2L features a class e-mail list that may be used to distribute course-related information. The default is your University of Calgary e-mail address.

Course Content:

The course will examine selected economic issues in water resource systems in Canada and other countries, including water quantity, water quality, ecosystem sustainability and water supply.

Grade Determination and Final Examination Details:

The final grade that each student receives will be based on the following weighting scheme:

Midterm Examination	25%
Term Paper	25%
Final Examination	35%
Lab Assignments, Participation and Exercises	15%
	100%

(a) Examinations

The midterm examination will be held in class on a date to be announced. The Final Examination will be scheduled by the Registrar and will last two hours. It will be a comprehensive examination of all material covered in the course. All examinations will be closed-book. Students will not be allowed the use of calculators or other aids during any examination.

Deferred examinations will not be given except in the case of the Final Examination, where this possibility is provided for in the university's Academic Regulations. Examinations will not be given before the indicated examination date. For further information see the 2014/2015 Calendar.

(b) Term Paper

Students are encouraged to choose a specific and well-defined topic of interest based on the course content and to prepare a relatively short and concise paper. The topic for the paper must be cleared with the Instructor no later than February 20, and the paper will be due on April 8. Additional information about requirements for the term paper will be provided to students during the first weeks of class.

(c) Scheduled Laboratory Sessions

This course has a scheduled lab session each Tuesday that will be used for such activities as viewing films, hearing from guest speakers, class discussion, and so on. Some of these activities will involve short assignments, participation and exercises that will count towards your course score.

(d) Course Grades

A numerical score will be determined for each item of work submitted and a final (weighted) percentage score will be determined. A course letter grade will be assigned based upon the following conversion chart for final percentage scores:

A+	90 – 100	B	73 – 76	C–	60 – 62
A	85 – 89	B–	70 – 72	D+	57 – 59
A–	80 – 84	C+	67 – 69	D	50 – 56
B+	77 – 79	C	63 – 66	F	0 - 49

A passing grade on any particular component of the course is not required for a student to pass the course as a whole.

All submitted work must meet the university's standards for intellectual honesty. Plagiarism is a serious offence which will not be tolerated. Plagiarism includes paraphrasing, copying or misrepresenting someone else's work as your own, without full and scholarly attribution of the original sources. It is also not allowed to present work in one course that has already been submitted for credit in another course. Your attention is directed to the "Statement of Intellectual Honesty" in the 2014-2015 Calendar.

Students seeking reappraisal of a piece of graded term work (including the midterm exam) should discuss their work with the instructor within fifteen days of it being returned to class. Re-graded work stands an equal chance of having a higher or lower score assigned. Any term work which is not returned during regular class time may be collected from the instructor during office hours.

(e) Academic Accommodations

It is the student's responsibility to request academic accommodations. If you are a student with a documented disability who may require academic accommodation and have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre, please contact their office at 403-220-8237. Students who have not registered with the Disability Resource Centre are not eligible for formal academic accommodation. You are also required to discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of this course.

I welcome any comments you may have about the course during the term. When something is not clear during a lecture, do not hesitate to ask questions or to come see me during office hours.

Students' participation in this course, including the receipt and delivery of course material is regulated by provisions of Alberta's Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.
